  - a. On Mondays through Dec. 11, SDSI and Umoja will be hosting a viewing of the Black Minds Matter course presented by Dr. Luke Wood (and featuring many distinguished guest speakers/presenters). The viewing will take place at the Umoja Center, room 513 from 4:30-5:30. Please contact Antonio (abanks@fullcoll.edu) or Michelle (mgarcia@fullcoll.edu) for more information.
  - b. On Saturday, Oct. 28, our campus will host the ASCCC South Regional Meeting on Civil Discourse. This event is a function of the Equity and Diversity Action Committee (EDAC) of the Academic Senate for California Community Colleges. This is a free event (registration is required) and is open to faculty, managers, and classified employees. President Greg Schulz has agreed to share some insights as well. The event starts at 9:15 with registration and continental breakfast. You can register on Saturday if you are still interested in attending.
  - c. 3CSN (the CA Community College Success Network) is hosting an Equity Institute on Friday, Nov. 17-Saturday, Nov. 18 at the Kellogg Conference Center in Pomona. <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/3csn-equity-project-equity-institute-tickets-36373011657?ref=ecal>. (The registration section says it is a free event but the actual cost is $70).
  - d. There are several on-campus events this week including the Asian and Pacific Islander Forum at 2:00 on Wednesday, Oct. 25 and Dia de los Muertos Celebration beginning at 6 pm on Thursday, Oct. 26. For more information about these and other campus events, check out the Cadena Center calendar (<http://cadena.fullcoll.edu/calendar/>).
